

PLAN OF DAIRY INSPECTION IS OUTLINED HERE

Good Time is Assured all Visitors on New Salem Trip Next Wednesday

TWO BANDS ARE OBTAINED

Entertainment to be Mixed in with Serious Business on the Trip

Burleigh county farmers who are guests of the Bismarck Rotary club on the demonstration and inspection trip to the New Salem dairy center Wednesday, July 20, are assured of a good time.

F. G. Weinrich, of New Salem, who was in Bismarck today, said that plans are being made to entertain visitors at New Salem from all over the western part of the state, and many are coming from the northern and eastern parts. Fully 300 visitors are expected.

The tour plan is as follows: Leave New Salem at 8 A. M. (9 A. M. Bismarck time), visit the John Christensen farm, a half-mile from New Salem; visit several other farms before lunch which will be served at the fine farm of Charles Klusman, complete the tour by 5 P. M. and participate in a banquet provided by the New Salem Commercial club.

Plasher and Mandan bands will be on the trip, and a "nut quartette," composed of Mandan and New Salem singers, will entertain. The Rotary club is arranging some novel stunts.

Meet at 7 A. M. Burleigh county farmers who will join the Bismarck Rotarians are asked to notify Burt Finney, at Finney's drug store, or French and Welch, or The Tribune. The party will leave the Tribune, corner Fourth and Thayer streets, at 7 A. M., July 20, giving the party two hours to get to New Salem to begin the tour.

The New Salem Holstein Breeders circuit, which has been in operation for many years, is one of the most famous dairy centers in the Northwest. John Christensen is president. There are 17 herds in the circuit, representing an investment of several hundred thousands of dollars. The circuit hires an expert inspector whose duty it is to visit all of the herds in the district, giving expert advice, test cows for butterfat production, tuberculosis, etc.

Trying to Buy Heifer. That the dairy business had proved profitable is indicated by the increase of fine cattle in the circuit. A Burleigh county Holstein fancier recently visited New Salem, gave a friend who knows good cattle $400 and asked him to go out and buy him a heifer. According to the story told by the Burleigh county man, his friend visited every farm on the circuit but was unable to buy a heifer as cheap as $400. Some of the cows have a record of production of over $200 a year and are valued in the thousands.

The tour is being arranged by the animal husbandry department of the state agricultural college, in conjunction with New Salem men and circuit officers. The New Salem Journal, speaks of what may be learned on the tour as follows:

"A number of farms will be visited and members of the circuit will explain to the visitors how the circuit has built up butterfat producing herds by keeping records of feed and production; how the original members turned from wheat farming to dairying, how they keep their cows, sires in service until they are 12 and 14 years of age; how they manufacture and sell butter co-operatively, and purchase silos, milking machines, and other equipment co-operatively."

Washington, July 16.—(By Associated Press.)—A blue-pencilled congressional record appeared today with its account of the personal clash yesterday in the Senate over recommitment of the soldiers' bonus bill heavily censored. ## TENSION EASES AMONG BRITISH ON ERIN PEACE

Some Progress Believed to Have Been Made After First Meetings

NO CONFERENCE TODAY

Prime Minister Lloyd George and DeValera Confer with Advisers.

London, July 16.—Resumption of the conference between Prime Minister Lloyd George and Eamon DeValera, Irish Republican leader, was not planned for today, it having been announced that their next meeting would occur on Monday.

Discussions they would have with their advisers during the day, however, might, it is believed, have an important bearing on the future progress of the conversations begun in Thursday and continued yesterday. There seemed last night to be a relaxation of tension which prevailed Thursday and Friday and the impression gained was that while the situation had lost none of its delicacy some progress had been made.

GREEKS OCCUPY RAIL POINT IN DRIVE ON TURKS

Athens, July 16.—Greek troops have occupied the city of Katala, an important point on the southern branch of the Bagdad railroad, about 75 miles southeast of Brussa, it was declared in a private dispatch received here last night from Smyrna. # WATKINS URGED FOR DIRECTOR

Grand Forks, July 16.—Efforts are being made by the North Dakota W. C. T. U. to have F. L. Watkins appointed state prohibition director for the state, although it is understood that President Harding has already nominated A. A. Stone of LaMoine county to that position.

Members of the women's organization are being asked to send telegrams to Roy C. Haynes, prohibition commissioner, Washington, D. C., urging the appointment of Mr. Watkins to the North Dakota position. Similar telegrams are being sent to the North Dakota senators and congressmen.

Watkins was formerly superintendent of the North Dakota Enforcement league, and last winter was employed by Attorney General William Lemke and State Inspector Harry Dunbar in law enforcement work.

LEGION OFFICER IN NO. DAKOTA

Lemuel Bolles, national adjutant of the American Legion, was to pass through Bismarck today on his way to Dickinson, where he will be guest of The Legion post Sunday. A delegation planned to take him on a trip to the Killdeer mountains, passing through Killdeer and to return by way of Killdeer where the Legion post is to give a banquet in his honor Sunday evening. Mr. Bolles is on a coast-to-coast swing for the Legion. Mr. Bolles has been conferring with state officers of the Legion at Fargo.

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR HERE

Gov. Howard Wood was in Bismarck yesterday. His visit, he declared, had no official significance.

were most of the tempestuous exchanges between Senator McCumber, republican, North Dakota, and Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri. The record was silent on Mr. McCumber's invitation to settle differences "outside." Also lost to history were Mr. Reed's remarks about "blackbirds," it being understood that the stenographer's ringside reports had been blue-pencilled by the principals themselves in the interest of senate decorum.

$114,000 PAID BY RAILROADS

Approximately $114,000, representing income tax of the railroads operating in North Dakota, was paid yesterday to the state treasurer, both individual and corporation state income tax now is being paid into the state coffers.

I. V. A. REPORTS PROGRESS MADE ON PETITIONS

Total Number of Names Now on Petitions Said to be Over 46,000

CONTINUING THE DRIVE

Fargo, July 16.—The signing of the recall petitions is proceeding in various parts of the state. At the independent state headquarters here it was stated yesterday that petitions totaling 46,347 names had been returned so far and reports from field workers show that about 20,000 signatures are being withheld for additional signatures.

The Joint Campaign committee, which is handling the recall election, is very well satisfied with the results, the announcement says. The independent headquarters are concentrating their efforts on securing at least 50,000 signatures before the end of the month, this being approximately the required number.

For the purpose of keeping a full and complete check on all recall petition work the state has been divided into 63 units. Where the legislative district is confined to one county or part of one county, the district is the unit; but where more than one county the county is the unit. Each unit has a manager who supervises the work of captains in each precinct.

GET $20,000,000 FROM DODGERS

Washington, July 16.—Approximately $20,000,000 was added to the government revenue during the fiscal year just ended through recoveries from false and fraudulent income tax returns, Commissioner Blair announced today.

FACTS FOR THE CITY TAXPAYERS

A Bismarck taxpayer has forcibly brought home to him how high the tax cost of doing business in Bismarck as compared to that obtaining in other cities of the nation. He owns property in Los Angeles which at forced sale would bring $17,000 and under normal conditions should bring $20,000.

He received his tax statement the other day and the tax charges were slightly more than $100. On the same class of property in Bismarck his tax would have been between $500 and $600.

Here is a concrete instance and an unanswerable argument why the tax burdens should not be increased if Bismarck is to grow and people are to invest capital in new buildings, homes and industries.

Excessive tax burdens drive capital out of a community. When the burden per capita exceeds a certain limit, a city merely marks time until the taxes recede so that investment becomes a profitable venture.

Nothing drives capital out of productive channels as effectively as high taxes. Let the voters whether they are direct or indirect tax payers—and everyone falls in one of the two classes—roll up a vote of protest against adding to the present exorbitant tax load of Bismarck.

A Bigger and Better Bismarck—so say we all. But that will only come after there has been a substantial reduction in the tax rate.

Remember the date July 26. Failure to vote is tantamount to voting Yes for an increase in taxes.

MRS. EVA KABER FOUND GUILTY; WILL GET LIFE

Jury, However, Recommends Clemency for Woman Charged With Killing Husband

FAINTS AGAIN IN COURT

Woman Carried Into Court In Arms Of Deputy Sheriff

Cleveland, Ohio, July 16.—Mrs. Eva Katherine Kaber was today found guilty of murder in the first degree but with a recommendation of mercy by the jury which tried her on a charge of plotting the killing of her husband, Samuel F. Kaber. Under the verdict Mrs. Kaber must serve the remainder of her life in prison.

Mrs. Kaber's trial on a charge of first degree murder for plotting the killing of her husband, Daniel F. Kaber, by hired assassins in their Lakewood home, two years ago which has been in progress since June 28, ended at 5:50 last evening.

Mrs. Kaber, who had sat apparently oblivious to the arguments of counsel in which the state asked that she pay the extreme penalty, fainted just as Judge Maurice Bernon told the jury the case was in their hands.

Mrs. Kaber will be sentenced to life imprisonment in the Ohio reformatory for women at Marysville by Judge Bernon. Under the Ohio law there is no hope for pardon under such a verdict.

Before the jury reported officially to the court Judge Bernon announced the decision to Attorney Francis Poulson. Mrs. Kaber's personal counsel, so that he might inform Mrs. Kaber in hope that she would revive sufficiently from a stupor to be brought into court to hear the official announcement.

She had been in a stupor all morning. The jury announced that it was ready to report a verdict at 8:45 this morning after deliberating four hours. Mrs. Kaber, according to her counsel, said that she undertook what the verdict was and she was carried into the court room at 9:30 o'clock.

Limp In Deputy's Arms

The jury was brought in a few minutes later and made official report on the verdict. Mrs. Kaber, who was lying limp in the arms of a deputy sheriff, was asked if she had anything to say. She merely shook her head, indicating that she had not. Judge Bernon then pronounced sentence. Mrs. Kaber was carried back to her cell in the jail.

The jury took only three ballots. It was said the first two were nine for mercy and three for first degree murder without mercy. Before balloting the jury had discarded the insanity plea. Attorney Poulson said he would not appeal the case, that he was perfectly satisfied with the verdict.

Marion McArdle, Mrs. Kaber's daughter, who was with her mother when she was told of the verdict by Attorney Poulson said she was well pleased with the verdict, according to Poulson.

Shows No Emotion

When informed by Mr. Poulson of the verdict Mrs. Kaber merely nodded her head, he said, showing no sign of emotion.

Mrs. Kaber is the first woman in Cuyahoga county to be convicted of first degree murder.

William J. Corrigan, of Mrs. Kaber's counsel, said he was well satisfied with the verdict. The same expression was made by County Prosecutor Edward C. Stanton.

Mrs. Kaber was said by her attorneys to have been practically unconscious last night while the jury was trying to reach a verdict.

State Auditor Acts in Burke County Case

State auditor H. C. Poindexter has directed the county auditor of Burke county to proceed with legal action against the former county treasurer of that county to recover funds which were held in his possession when he retired as treasurer May 1.

It is said that the present county treasurer refused to accept the transfer of funds from the former county treasurer, who had deposited some thing like $100,000 in various banks of the county. Part of it, it is said, was deposited in bank and part without, on certificates.

The state auditor has also directed the county auditor of Slope county to proceed against the former county treasurer who has said deposited money in two banks in Ambion with out bond. The banks are closed.

HARVEST BEGUN IN NO. DAKOTA; YIELD SPOTTED

Black Rust Does Great Damage in the Eastern Part of the State

RYE IS NOW BEING CUT

Report of Conditions in Western Half of State Show Varied Prospects

Rye and early oats harvest is now under way in this section of the state and wheat will be cut very soon, according to reports of crop conditions to the U. S. weather bureau here.

There is no black rust in the western part of the state, according to these reports. Statements from the eastern part of the state indicate that black rust has gained much headway in the Red River Valley and the condition has been reflected in an increase in wheat prices on the Duluth market. The rust increase means a spotted crop in the eastern part of the state, in some cases fields which were expected to go 20 bushels an acre will now yield but one-third, it is said.

The extreme southwestern part of the state and the northwestern part promise good yield, the weather bureau advises say. The heat wave has badly hurt grain in eastern Adams, eastern Hettinger, Grant, Morton, southern Mercer, southern Oliver, Burleigh, southern Kidder, western Logan, western McIntosh and Emmons county, these advisers say, while the rest of the territory reports a fair condition of crop. In Bowman county and other extreme southwestern parts of the state a good yield is expected. Crops in the northwestern part of the state are said to be fairly average, and there are other spotted sections which promise an excellent yield.

Enough Labor

The state labor bureau reports that at the present time the number of men seeking places in harvest fields about equals the number of places. A number of transients have come into the territory in the last few days seeking work in the harvest fields. It probably will be the policy of the bureau to give all places possible to bona fide North Dakota farmers, many of them who have had short crops in the spotted sections seeking work in the harvest fields in other sections. It has been found that many of the transients will not stay with the jobs they accept and ask wages higher than the farmers are willing to pay.

Wages vary somewhat in the state. In this section they run from $15 to $40 for the month to $2 for the day, according to various reports. With an increasing number of harvest hands available the price is not expected to increase and may be lowered.

LEGION STARTS ANEW ON DRIVE FOR THE BONUS

National Commander Emery Says it will be Pushed with Much Vigor

CRITICISES THE PRESIDENT

Holds Sweet Bill for Compensation will be Passed in the National House

Chicago, July 16.—The fight of the American Legion for the soldiers' bonus will be continued with renewed vigor, declared Major John G. Emery, of Grand Rapids, Mich., national commander of the Legion, in commenting today on the "side-tracking" of the bonus bill in the senate.

"If the war had continued for another 30 days," he asserted, "it would have cost the government as much as the proposed adjusted compensation program."

"We consider President Harding's all wrong in his attitude. Why, the senate finance committee in its report declared untrue the claims that the Sweet bill and the adjusted compensation program would bankrupt the treasury."

"The American Legion program still stands. We will immediately start the fight for bonus all over again in the house. We have practically been assured that the Sweet bill will be passed."

Mr. Emery asserted the Legion has a well-defined program to fight for the bonus and that this will not be modified.

The wounded and disabled men will be taken care of first and then will come those in financial distress due to the war, Major Emery said.

CITIZENS FEAR 'WOBBLES' WILL MARCH ON JAIL

103 Driven Out of Aberdeen Said to be Waiting to Make Sunday Attack

MOVING FROM MITCHELL

Aberdeen, S. D., July 16.—Deputy sheriff and special citizens possmen joined police in patrolling Aberdeen's streets where all seemed normal after last night's threatening situation which resulted from the rejection of the I. W. W.

There was no sign of any further disturbance during the early morning.

Aberdeen, S. D., July 16.—City and county authorities today were on the alert for developments following the deportation last night of 103 men, alleged members of the Industrial Workers of the World, by a posse under sheriff Henry C. Elliott, of Brown county, in which Aberdeen is situated.

Neighboring towns and villages which had been notified of the movement of the men were on the watch and were expected to keep them moving.

The driving out of the 103 followed demonstrations Friday aimed at securing the release of Harry Casey, who had been arrested Thursday night on a charge to syndicalism.

Actions of the alleged I. W. W. after the arraignment of Casey in procuring meals in a number of restaurants and then refusing to pay for them aroused sentiment against them and when the men went into camp a short distance from the city the sheriff ordered them to move on. Their refusal to do so caused the sheriff to summon a posse and compel the I. W. W. to "march." A large party of I. W. W. members were said to be moving toward this city from Mitchell and other places in South Dakota. Their object is said to be to force the release of Casey, if that is not granted before Sunday.

Aberdeen, S. D., July 16.—One hundred and three alleged I. W. W. were driven out of Aberdeen and vicinity last night by citizens' posse under Sheriff Henry C. Elliott of Brown county. They were herded in two groups, one sent east and the other north. Each group was driven about ten miles.

In the meantime, Milwaukee railroad officials here received word that an alleged I. W. W. had seized a freight bound from the west and would arrive here about midnight.

One man giving his name as Olaf Elmer, 27, of Minneapolis, was arrested. He is held without charge.

A posse was organized at Wabeno, about 20 miles south of here, to follow the train, but one of the posse on the way here. He was killed by another posse this afternoon.

Montana Sheriff Claims That Bowen Made Threats Two Days Before the Murder

COURT CHANGES RULING

Judge Berry Admits Much Testimony Regarding Alleged Threats Made

Hettinger, N. D., July 16.—That M. K. Bowen, two days before he was killed had declared he would kill the man that came after Offley's cattle, was the last minute testimony put in by the defense in the trial of D. K. Offley for Bowen's murder.

The defense immediately afterward rested its case late yesterday afternoon.

Sheriff H. P. Barley, of Wibaux, Montana, was placed on the stand by the defense. He declared that he had seen M. K. Bowen in Carlyle, Montana, two days before the shooting. Bowen was talking to a group of men which the sheriff joined. He told about taking up cattle which had strayed into his pasture.

Says he Heard Threat. "I heard him say he had taken up a bunch of cattle and heard Bowen say, 'I am going to shoot the fellow who comes after them,'" the sheriff said.

Sheriff Bartley also declared under cross-examination that the only man connected with the killing whom he personally knew was Bowen himself and that he remembered the stationing of Bowen made on the streets in Carlyle because the killing two days later. After Sheriff Bartley had given his testimony, Judge H. B. Berry, presiding, reversed his ruling that only threats alleged to have been made by Bowen and which had been communicated to Offley be allowed in the evidence.

Mr. Davis, an implement man of Carlyle, testified that Bowen in purchasing cartridges from him before the shooting told him he was buying the ammunition for use in the event he could not get "those fellows" by law he would get them with a gun.

TRANSIENTS SHOT AT VALLEY CITY

Valley City, N. D., July 16.—Two transients, apparently working men, are in the hospital here today, one shot through the arm and the other through the breast as the result of a shooting affair at the Soo depot early yesterday morning. Their condition is not serious. A man, thought to be one of the two alleged gunmen who did the shooting, is under arrest and the authorities are searching for the other.

A story as to how the shooting originated is that a robbery was attempted. No reports can be obtained, however, of any money lost. Officers found fifty hoboes around the depot.

$11,000 CHECK BACK IN CITY

A check for about $11,000, which was issued for the state agriculture college at Fargo, for payment of a pay-roll, is back in the state treasurer's office today for the second time. Payment was refused on the check some days ago by the Bank of North Dakota, according to information transmitted to the state treasurer, and it was understood that the agricultural college authorities had arranged to have it taken care of. However, the check was returned to the state treasurer today. What disposition will be made is not known.

P. S. WASHER DIES IN LOS ANGELES

Dickinson, July 16.—P. S. Washer, manager of the St. Charles hotel from 1916 to 1919 and previous to that time connected with hostilities at Beach and Mott, died at Los Angeles, Cal., Monday afternoon after a lingering illness of cancer.

TOURISTS WILL SEE "BARN THAT BOSSY BUILT"

New Salem, N. D., July 15.—The barn that "Bossy" built will be inspected by the livestock enthusiasts making the New Salem dairy tour July 20 when the tourists visit the farm of Frank Goetz. Mr. Goetz has two barns, one of the old structure with dirt floors, wood stanchions and mangers in which the herd of 120 Holsteins were kept for several years returning to the owner the profits made it possible to erect the second barn. The new barn is modern in every way, has electric lights, an elaborate ventilation system, milking machines, and modern stanchions and calf pens. Two silos are used to insure proper feed.

The high producing cow of the New Salem Holstein Breeders' association in 1920 is in Mr. Goetz's herd. Of the 13 cows in the herd 13 of them are closely related thru both sire and dam to the 1st record cow.

The tour is being arranged thru the Agricultural college as a life sized demonstration of what the dairying industry will do towards nullifying the discouraging effects of light soil and drought years. The parties will travel by automobile in charge of the county agents.

STORY OF PRICES TOLD BY CHARTS

Anyone interested in prices—and there are few of us who are not interested these days—will find some unusual disclosures in a set of charts just released to their dealers by Dodge Brothers.

The charts are not confined to automobile prices, as might be assumed from the fact that they were issued by an automobile manufacturer, but show clearly and accurately the remarkable variations in the cost of hundreds of commodities over a period of seven and eight years.

If by chance your salary has been reduced, and you are inclined to grumble try the simple experiment of comparing your present salary with your salary in June 1920, when the peak was reached in the prices of most commodities. If you are making as much now as you were then, you are still 41 per cent ahead of the game according to one of the charts, which shows a decline of 41 per cent from June 1920 to June, 1921 in the prices of 421 commodities. If you have been reduced 10 per cent, you are 31 per cent ahead.

Dodge Brothers did not issue these charts however, to attempt to justify any salary reductions," said M. B. Gilman, but merely to prove to the public that the price of Dodge Brothers Motor car has been remarkably low all through the period of high prices as compared with the general trend. How they could have made their recent big reduction in the face of these figures is more than I can explain. They were directly below the present price of the great majority of commodities and they had not been getting the abnormal profit that retailers of these commodities were getting the last six or seven years. Still they reduced from $195 to $365, bringing the touring car down to the astounding price of $955 to $1,000. A few weeks after announcing that the car hereafter would be equipped all around with oversize cord tires Dodge Brothers have unlimited resources and when they buy materials they naturally get the most advantageous prices. But still I am not quite able to see how they sell the car at this figure. However that is not a matter for dealers to worry about. I know that the car is better than it ever has been and I am here to sell it on that basis.

STATE FARMERS SAID STRONG FOR FULL POOL

Fargo, N. D., July 15.—Farmers in North Dakota who have signed up with the U. S. Grain Growers, Inc., are almost unanimous in electing the one hundred per cent pooling plan for their wheat according to the signed contracts, hundreds of which are coming into the Fargo office daily.

"Under the pooling plan," says Mr. Burdick, "the farmer may put his wheat into a local pool the sale of which will be under the exclusive direction of the local pooling committee. Each farmer will receive the same price per bushel for wheat of the same grade.

If the grain grower wants to go in on a bigger scale he may combine his grain to a joint pool to be sold with the grain of other growers and other elevators by the pooling department of the national organization. The other methods which the grower may elect are the sale outright at the time of delivery for the prevailing market price with the advantage that savings along the line will be returned to the farmer and the consignment to a central market for sale at any specified time by the U. S. G. A. Growers, Inc."

DEMANDS LOWER FREIGHT RATES TO SAVE WEST

Washington, July 15.—Present freight rates on livestock are destroying the west and the railroads will be among the worst sufferers in the long run if they are not lowered, S. H. Cowan, representing the American Livestock Association, told the Interstate Commerce Commission in oral argument on the shippers' plea for relief in which numerous state utility commissioners have intervened.

"The railroads should not be allowed to sacrifice the future of the west on the altar of the present revenues," Mr. Cowan declared. "The livestock industry is the only one that can make the waste spaces productive."

N. DAK. LEGION TAKES THE LEAD

"The American Legion in North Dakota will be one of the first departments in the country to go over in the Legion's one day 'Every Member Get a Member' campaign on July 15th," says Jack Williams, department adjutant of the American Legion. "Reports from posts in the state show that enthusiasm is running high and competition will be keen to see which post doubles its membership first in North Dakota."

The North Dakota department of the American Legion is one of the highest ranking at national headquarters. If the North Dakota department were 2,700 new members on July 15th, it will be the first state to reach its 1920 membership. The North Dakota department convention of the Legion will be held at Jamestown in September and the National convention will meet at Kansas City in November.

DECISIONS OF SUPREME COURT

From Morton County

Joseph Pulkrabek, Plaintiff and Appellant, vs.

Olive Pulkrabek, Defendant and Respondent.

Syllabus: In an action for divorce the defendant answered denying the existence of grounds alleged in the complaint and affirmatively pleaded grounds for divorce against the plaintiff, praying for divorce and permanent alimony. At the conclusion of the trial the court found the evidence of both parties insufficient and denied the divorce. In addition it found that the plaintiff owned property worth $10,000; that he had failed and neglected to provide the defendant with the necessities of life and had neglected to pay the temporary alimony. It is held:

(1) Under Section 4401, C. L. 1913, where a divorce is denied, the court may award maintenance money to the wife.

(2) An award of maintenance under Section 4401, C. L. 1913, is not contingent upon the existence of grounds for divorce or upon the wife living apart from her husband without her fault, but the award may be made upon facts showing reasonable necessity for action on the part of the court.

PELLAGRA BREAKS OUT IN SOUTH

Washington, July 15.—A new outbreak of pellagra, particularly in the south, is alarming the public health service. Because of the depression in the cotton market poorer classes of planters, officials say, have been forced back to living on salt pork and cornbread, a diet which contributes to pellagra.

TO THE BUYING PUBLIC:

You realize, and we realize, that the spirit of the times is one of "PRICE REDUCTION," and while our costs do not warrant a material reduction in our line of merchandise, we have, however, in every instance reduced our prices in keeping with the market conditions.

We have given the subject of present conditions considerable study, and have reached the conclusion that methods used in the transaction of NINETY PERCENT of all business are methods established years ago when the economical problem was of minor consequence. Today, the entire program is changed. The old methods of doing business have got to give way to more modern ways of conducting the volume of trades which are transacted each and every day.

Cash or its equivalent in exchange for merchandise or services rendered in each and every transaction is the only satisfactory method upon which business can be conducted in the face of the present financial and economical problems.

The demand by the buying public today, is their merchandise requirements for LESS MONEY. One material way is to "Pay cash and buy for less." This method of conducting our business will be adopted by us July 15th. After a thorough consideration of this very important matter we positively know, that by conducting our business on a strictly cash basis, we can sell our wares for less money, thereby effecting a saving to our customers which will be worthy of their thorough consideration.

Our policy to stock strictly quality merchandise at strictly cash prices, will mean "ECONOMY AND SATISFACTION" to every purchaser. We have enjoyed your patronage for a long time and we assure you that we have greatly appreciated the liberal trade you have given us, for which we thank you.

In view of the fact we are continuing business at "The Same Old Place," we are going to conduct our business on a basis which will merit a continuance of your patronage.

Thanking you for your kind attention to this letter, and sincerely hoping to be of further service to you, we are,

Yours truly,
LOMAS HARDWARE COMPANY,

PERFORMANCES OF PASSION PLAY
1922 SCHEDULE

Oberammergau, Bavaria, July 16.—Thirty performances of the Passion Play have been scheduled for 1922 by the committee of 21 which is directing the spectacle, but this number will be increased if the attendance demands as was the case both in 1909 and 1910. It will require an outlay of 1,500,000 marks to stage the Oberammergau play and the villagers are extremely anxious about the German political situation, lest conditions be such that foreigners will not attend.

The 360 burghers, who constitute the descendants of the original peasants who made the vow to produce the play decennially, personally assume the responsibility for this expenditure, and the failure to attract sufficient visitors to meet the cost would result in the bankruptcy of practically the entire village, as the Oberammergau folk have slight resources.

Most of the burghers are woodcarvers, potters, painters, sculptors, farmers, merchants and small shopkeepers. Only the descendants of the villagers who were saved from the plague in 1333 take part in the Passion Play and assume responsibility for its production.

Next October will be a fateful month for them, as the names of the villagers who are to have the leading roles in the spectacle will be announced.

To be selected to enact the role of Jesus Christ or one of the apostles is a far greater honor to an Oberammergau man than election to the presidency of Germany or any other office within the gift of the entire German people.

And any woman of Oberammergau would far rather be chosen to play the role of Mary or Martha or Mary Magdalene than to be in the position of Frau Ebert as mistress of the president's palace in Berlin.

Many of the actors in the Passion Play next year will doubtless be the same as those in the past when the play was last produced in 1910. Anton Lang, who enacted the role of Jesus Christ in 1900 and 1910, will probably be chosen for the part again, as he is still young enough to undertake the arduous task and looks the part so well that younger aspirants are not likely to displace him.

Ottile Zwink, who played the role of Mary in 1910, has married since that time. No married woman can play a role. Consequently all the young women of Oberammergau with ability and experience as actors are eagerly trying to qualify for the highly important part. Paula Rendl, daughter of Peter Rendl, the sculptor, who was Joseph of Arimathea in the play of 1910 and enacted the role of St. John 21 years ago, is one of the most promising candidates for the role of Mary. Fraulein Rendl has shown great ability in minor religious plays which are produced constantly by the Oberammergau folk as a means of training actors for the Passion Play.

Marie Mayr, who played the role of Mary Magdalene in the 1910 production, has also married and is living in Chicago. Marie Schmid, who was the Veronica in the last production, has also married.

Eighty-two of the Oberammergau men died during the war and many of the older actors of the last production will be disqualified by age for important roles. Consequently there are scores of places in the cast to which young men with ability as actors may aspire. They have begun to let their hair grow. Wigs and makeup are not permitted by the directors of the Passion Play.

Practically all the older men who had important parts in the last production have never cut their hair. Many of them have retained their long beards and pride themselves on their resemblance to the biblical characters they have depicted.

TRACTOR INDUSTRY REVIVES.
FIFTY-Six Percent Decline in Price of Kerosene Puts Horses Back in Barn.
Chicago, July 16.—Imminence of a revival of that branch of the automotive industry devoted to the manufacture of tractors is indicated by a survey of eleven states of the middlewest completed today by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), through its 3,359 agents. The survey shows approximately 135,000 tractors are now in use in the middlewest and that farmers, who for a time reverted to the use of horses as furnishing the cheaper motive power, have again placed their tractors in the fields. The revival of the tractor is attributed in a large measure to the heavy decline in the price of kerosene, widely used as tractor fuel. Kerosene is now at its low ebb, selling in Chicago at 8 1/2 cents a gallon, tank wagon, a decrease of 56 percent under the peak price of 19 1/2 cents on Sept. 12, 1920. Though prices vary throughout the eleven states the percentage of decline is approximately the same in all of them. Retail prices generally are two cents higher than the tank wagon price, though some retailers are charging higher prices and are not giving the public full advantage of the decline, marketing companies say. States reporting in the Standard Oil survey were Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, South Dakota, North Dakota, Kansas, Missouri and Oklahoma.

CHOPPED TIRE WITH AXE, IS CHARGE MADE

H. L. Wagner was in Mandan today in regard to charges he preferred against George Ahrens, living south of Mandan, who is alleged to have used an axe to cut a tire on Mr. Wagner's automobile several days ago. Ahrens preferred a charge of trespass against Mr. Wagner. The Mandan informant of the Tribune said that Mr. Wagner, who is organizer at the Eltinge, and a party of Bismarck people had driven over a road recently graded by the state historical society leading up the hill to the site of the old blockhouse at old Fort Lincoln, south of Mandan. When the party descended Ahrens is said to have blocked the road and then to have threatened those in the car and to have chopped a tire with his axe.

DEMONSTRATION TOUR
Members of the Bismarck Rotary club have taken the right step in extending an invitation to Burleigh county farmers to be their guests on the demonstration and inspection tour of the New Salem Holstein Breeders' circuit. It is hoped that many farmers will come to Bismarck next Wednesday morning and join the Bismarck boosters on their trip.

It is an educational trip for both farmers and city man and it is fitting that the business forces of the county join hands and make the tour together.

The business salvation of this section of the state rests largely upon the development of the livestock industry. What the successful farmers have done in the vicinity of New Salem can be duplicated in this district. If the Rotary club can get fifty or sixty representative Burleigh county farmers to make the trip with them, the junket should be profitable to everyone concerned.

Again the Rotary club is demonstrating its usefulness to community building. Its efforts in this instance should be backed by the business interests. The tour is not restricted to Rotary members. Any farmer or person interested in promoting the livestock industry is cordially invited to join the Rotary members. The more the merrier. The Rotary is merely promoting the trip so that Burleigh county will be well represented and secure some of the benefits from the tour.

LAMOURE COUNTY VENTURE
Memorial Park in LaMoure County is a community venture of no mean proportions and shows what can be done in other sections of the state to better living conditions both on the farm and in the city. This park brings all residents of the county together and should make for the kind of community spirit that has been lacking in the state of late.

A tract of fifty acres was purchased by popular subscription in a beautiful grove through which a river winds its way over a most picturesque route. The county commissioners appropriated about $15,000 for permanent improvements which were laid out by a landscape gardener.

This county recreation center has a fine auditorium, a baseball park and a children's playground with all the equipment that delights the youngsters.

LaMoure county has planned well in providing a park for all its residents, the city dweller as well as the farmer. More county parks such as this will stimulate closer union between the city and country.

Hats off to LaMoure County!

TRAPPED IN CLOUDS

What would you do if you were nearly a mile above ground in an airplane that suddenly started to fall? Would you go to pieces or would your presence of mind save you?

This thrilling experience happened to E. G. Leonhardt, air mail pilot. The story is going the rounds among aviators.

Last January, Leonhardt was flying east through a terrific blizzard, 4,000 feet above sea level. He was over Pennsylvania, crossing the Allegheny Mountains.

Suddenly the taper-pin on the elevator-control of the plane sheared off.

Leonhardt was in the same predicament as you would be if you were driving a car 60 miles an hour and the steering wheel broke.

The mail plane broke into a series of dives. Running wildly, like a bucking broncho, it shot up again, then dived head-on toward earth.

Leonhardt's brain worked like chain lightning. He unloosened his life belt, squirmed down to the break—and used his metal Eversharp pencil as an emergency taper-pin.

Another few seconds * * * He had the mail plane under control, and was gliding to safety.

Similar stories of exceptional presence of mind are told in nearly every factory and in every industry.

You recall the school-book story of the little Dutch boy who, finding a hole in the dike that kept out the ocean, plugged it with his finger and stood all night, preventing a flood.

The reason we tell these stories is because it takes an emergency to bring out the real man. The brain, the private office that controls your body, when it is confronted by an emergency, either goes dead or works like greased lightning. What is it that gives one man presence of mind in a pinch, while another is paralyzed and helpless?

Some years ago, at Findlay, Ohio, an oil well was being "shot." A long tube, filled with nitroglycerin, was being lowered down the pipe. Suddenly the "shooter" heard a rattling. A pocket of gas had opened up down in the well and blowing the tube of explosive into the air. It would drop to earth and explode before the shooter could get away.

So, with remarkable courage and presence of mind, he knelt over the hole and as the tube came out, hugged it to him and fell over backward. There was no explosion.

Chicago is arresting dairymen for watering their milk. Perhaps they call it "liquidating assets."

Consider the anti-everything; he tolleth not and neither does he spend; yet Solomon in all his wisdom never brayed like one of these.

THINK OF THOSE OTHER SUMMERS!
Complaint is made that the weather is hot. It is a condition that sometimes goes with the summer season, but without pressing that point, just what valid grounds have grumblers at the discomforts of the season for expecting manifestations of public sympathy?

Summer heats are tempered nowadays by a hundred alleviations unknown to a harder generation. The ice wagon comes around regularly—in fact, it never misses except on the day we want an extra supply for company ice cream—and this luxury is within the reach of everybody. Cooking meals must always be a weariness to flesh, and in summer unquestionably is a perspiration added to it. But what did our mothers know of gas stoves or electric ranges that can be turned off the moment the dinner is done? What did they know of prepared meats and soups and forty other edibles that now can be produced on the table by the mere turn of a can opener? What about the good old bathtub with the gurgling faucet whose matin note ushers in our day? We scorn the cheap oratorical trick of even pretending to pause for a reply.

Our mothers knew none of these things. They did not keep house in summer with a can opener. But probably these reflections will have no effect. We will continue to say it is hot, and even add that we feel the heat more than other people. Then when we sit down to a dinner of cooling salad from a can, bread from the baker's, potted meat from the grocery and ice cream from the drug store, the lady who furnishes the conversation at table will say, mark her words, next summer she'll be blessed if she'll toil and broil all summer in a hot kitchen for any man. — Kansas City Star.

DISABLED SOLDIERS AND THE BONUS

Representatives of the American Legion and of the Veterans of Foreign Wars have appeared before the special committee of the United States senate and complained bitterly of the failure of the government agencies to provide decent hospital facilities for ex-service men in need of medical care. Congress is entreated to "humanize" the bureaus that are supposed to minister to the welfare of sick, disabled and unemployed and homeless veterans.

In view of the inexcusable neglect of these former service men, to whom the government and the nation owe a debt of honor that never can be adequately discharged, it is strange that congress should continue to indulge in vague promises of a liberal bonus to soldiers instead of attending to the pressing duty of providing for those who urgently need relief and aid.

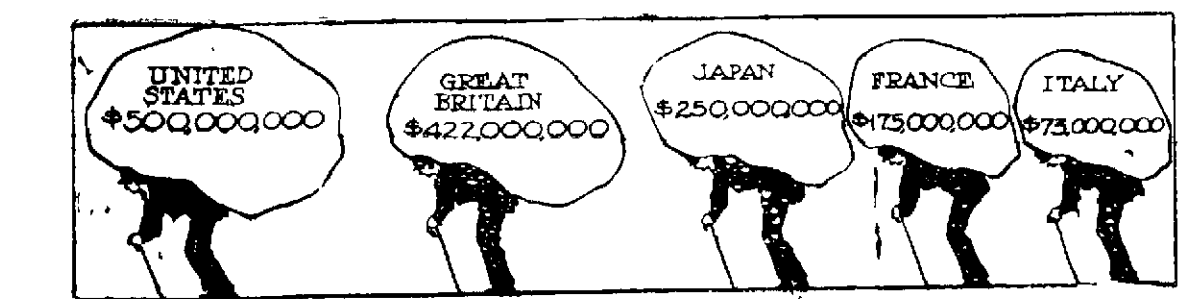

The United States Chamber of Commerce has launched a nation-wide campaign in favor of justice to the disabled and destitute veterans and against a general cash bonus to former soldiers regardless of individual condition or need.

The chamber insists that the duty of the government is to rehabilitate those who were physically or mentally injured during their period of service, and that a cash bonus a year or two hence will do no real good to anybody and represent so much waste.

The fact is that even now congress has not the faintest idea as to where to find the $2,000,000,000 or $3,000,000,000 which, according to estimates, the proposed cash bonus would cost the government. Congress does not know when, if ever, the money can be raised and paid. The chamber of commerce takes the position that the bonus is wholly unnecessary and that the country cannot afford it, in view of the business situation and the back-breaking tax burdens.

The reaction of the business community to the vigorous move of the chamber of commerce will be watched with keen interest. Certainly the chamber is right in emphasizing the primary duty of taking proper care of the sick and maimed veterans regardless of the general talk of generous cash bonuses in the dim and distant future — Chicago News.

LAY ALL THE CARDS FACE UP!

THE TAXPAYERS' BURDEN—WHAT POWER WILL SPEND ON NAVIES IN 1921.

The administration has finally taken the public into its confidence in respect to its plans for trying to bring about an international agreement for the limitation of armaments.

The president, through the secretary of state, has felt out the four other great powers—Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan—as to their general attitude on the subject. This first step is more or less informal and unofficial. But if the responses are as favorable as it is hoped and expected they will be, the proceedings will pass at once from the informal and unofficial to the formal and official stage.

Each of the powers will be invited to send delegates to a conference to be held in Washington.

Certain "irreconcilable" senators, who refuse to be pleased with anything the administration does, criticize these plans because France and Italy have been included and because it is proposed to discuss the question of policy in the Pacific as well as armament limitation.

This seems to be a narrow and prejudiced view.

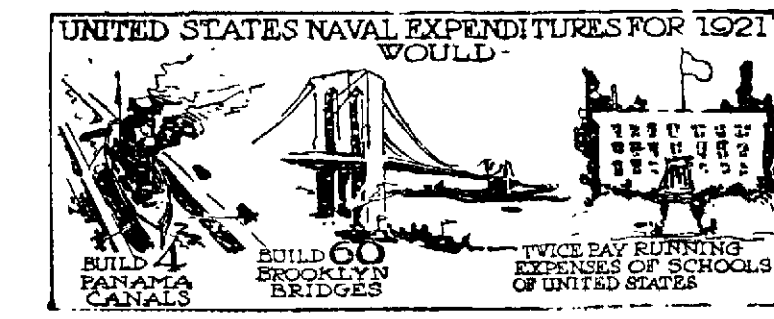

So far as France and Italy are concerned while they have not the same interest in the naval aspects of disarmament as the other three powers they are great military nations and their participation in the proposed conference will greatly add to its importance and prestige.

Either of these nations is quite as likely to furnish the moral leadership which is necessary to the success of the great enterprise as is America, Great Britain or Japan.

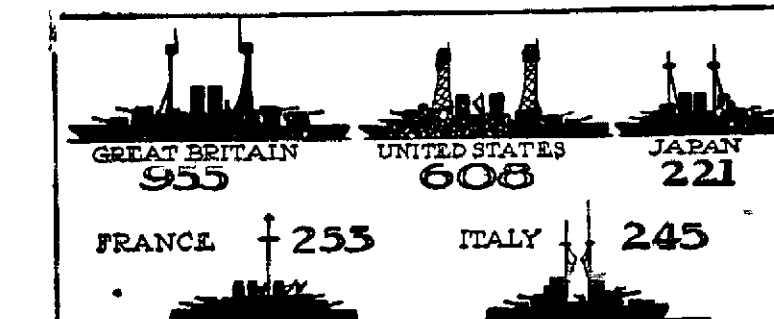

As to the wisdom of including a discussion of policy in the Pacific—the program of the conference—the critics of the administration haven't a leg to stand on.

That is the one thing that must be discussed and decided if the conference is to have any good results whatever.

The mad race for naval superiority is largely due to fears and suspicions among America, Great Britain and

ILLUSTRATING THE COST OF U. S. NAVY

COMPARATIVE SIZES OF WORLD NAVIES

Japan, regarding the policy in the Pacific.

Once these fears and suspicions are removed, in the only way they can be removed, by frank discussion, the greatest obstacle to an agreement for the limitation of naval armaments will have been overcome.

By including this Pacific question in the conference program, the president has taken the direct route to the very heart of the disarmament proposition.

Is Japan impoverishing herself to build a navy big enough to attack us or to protect herself against an attack she fears from us?

If the latter, it is up to us to give her assurances and guarantees that her fears are groundless and by the same token to demand of her assurances and guarantees that her Pacific ambitions are not in conflict with our rights.

Whether or not the British Japanese treaty is to be renewed is a question which has a direct, in fact a vital, bearing on this whole subject of Pacific policy and naval limitations.

We have a right to know to what extent the proposed renewal of this treaty is directed against us and the broad basis which the president has outlined for the conference in notice to both Great Britain and Japan that if they enter it, America will be satisfied with nothing less than that they lay all their cards face up on the table.

WHAT'S WHAT IN IRELAND

By Milton Bronner

London, July 16.—If conferences now progressing bring peace in Ireland, the result will be due to this most varying set of influences in the history of the world events:

FIRST: The grim reality of the bulk of Irishmen to follow De Valera's lead.

SECOND: King George's determination to settle Ireland if possible.

THIRD: The growing dismay of the British taxpayers at the enormous sums spent in repressing Ireland without coming any nearer to a settlement.

FOURTH: The growing discontent in the British army at the work.

FIFTH: The publicity campaign of the Northcliffe press, urging the olive branch be extended to Ireland.

SIXTH: The pressure exerted by the premiers of British independent dominions who saw peace possible in Ireland only if the Irish were given independence within the empire similar to Canada and Australia.

SEVENTH: The influences of America, reinforced by every prominent American whom Lloyd George has met in the past few months, including George Harvey, Thomas Lamont and Bernard Baruch. All are supposed to have told him that there was a slim chance of Anglo-American rapprochement while Ireland was oppressed.

Many here who are well informed, however, look upon King George as the real hero in the situation. The cabinet has been divided on the Irish question for a long time. Churchill and the Lord Chancellor being counted among those who wish conciliatory methods, while the Premier is supposed to have sided with the majority that believed in more military force.

The king really forced action on the Irish question by his insistence in the famous speech he delivered in Belfast June 22, when he opened the Ulster Parliament.

His plea to Irishmen to forgive and forget and to join in making Ireland a land of peace, contentment and good will profoundly stirred England.

The Premier, quick to sense what the public was thinking, jumped in on June 24 with a message to De Valera, "the chosen leader of the great majority in southern Ireland," asking him to come to London for a conference with himself and Sir James Craig, the first Ulster premier.

On June 28 De Valera accepted, but insisted that all Irish leaders first ought to meet in Dublin to settle the Irish differences on Irish soil.

Craig declined, but the invitation was accepted by southern Ireland, headed by Lord Middleton, great Irish politician, who is supposed to have been influenced by his sister. For years she has worked to alleviate the distress of the peasantry and sympathized with their aspirations.

The government showed its good intentions by beginning to release Sinn Fein leaders from prison, among them Arthur Griffiths, vice-president of Dail Eireann, the Sinn Fein parliament.

American Independence Day may be forever a memorable date in Irish history because, while thousands of Irishmen waved the American flag in Dublin, De Valera and Griffiths met Southern Unionists on that day at the Mansion House there.

Among other things proposed was a truce between the fighting forces. This finally was agreed upon July 8 and was made effective July 11. General McFadden, commanding the crown military forces, signed for the government while the signer for Sinn Fein was Michael Collins, the picturesquely daredevil commander of the Irish Republican Army for whom crown forces had been vainly searching for more than two years.

A romantic touch was added to the proceedings by the fact that General Smuts, Boer premier of South Africa, who once fought Britain, was instrumental in arranging for the reception of De Valera, Collins, Griffiths and the other "rebels."

Smuts owes his great influence here to the fact that he has recognized Boers to British rule, by emphasizing the freedom they have under the dominion form of government. He insisted that the same thing can be done with Ireland if it is similarly given control of its own affairs.

Responsible Irishmen think current events completely justify the five-year campaign started by the Sinn Fein with the Easter uprising of 1916. The next high spot in Irish history came in May, 1917, when Lloyd George proposed settlement of the Irish question by having a convention of all Irishmen to draft a constitution for the country.

All he asked was that they submit a constitution for better government of Ireland within the empire. He pledged the government to carry into effect any decision of the convention which secured the substantial agreement of its members.

Sinn Feiners declined to participate unless the convention was left free to decree complete independence of Ireland; unless the English government publicly pledged itself to the United States and the powers of Europe to ratify the decision of the convention; unless the convention consist of none but persons freely elected by adult suffrage of the people, and unless prisoner of war treatment was accorded to Irish captives in British jails.

The convention failed, as Sinn Feiners abstained, as the Ulsterites would not agree to join with the rest of Ireland, and as the Premier himself refused to grant Ireland fiscal autonomy.

The Irish people got their chance to show how they felt when the general parliamentary election of 1918 was held. Outside of Ulster the Sinn Fein elected practically all its candidates.

The Sinn Feiners thus elected to the British Parliament never took their seats. Instead, they constituted themselves the Dail Eireann Parliament of Irish people and set up a complete government with De Valera president, and Griffiths vice president.

An army was constituted, and in many districts Sinn Fein courts adjusted cases between Irishmen of Sinn Fein sympathies.

The urban elections of January and rural election of June 1920 further emphasized the Sinn Fein hold on Ireland.

In July of last year the British government began its campaign to suppress the Sinn Fein, resulting in a regular state of warfare between crown forces and Republicans.

The list of dead on both sides mounted into the hundreds, while other hundreds of Sinn Feiners were arrested and imprisoned. De Valera was the only prominent Sinn Feiner left unmolested. The British government always saying about him that he was the man they would have to deal with in the event they once more tried peaceful methods of settlement. Hence De Valera lived quiet and free while men like Griffiths and others were held in jail.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

By Olive Barton Roberts

Here's what Fleet was thinking. "It's such fine weather that Biddy Bantam will probably start to roam the plum tree. She does it every year, and every year I plan to have her, for my midnight lunch, but something always happens. She's hidden her nest somewhere, too. I'm sure, but I can't find it, smart as I am. I'll take a walk down to the plum tree tonight and have a look around. In the meantime I'll stay near Mike Mole's house and see what I can see."

Fleet didn't know it but he was talking out loud, and Spruce Blow heard him and so did Nanny and Nick, for the three of them were also looking around to see what they could see as well as to hear what they could hear.

The fairymen nodded wisely to the children and being rather wise themselves, they nodded back understandingly. But nobody said a word and Fleet never knew they were there. By and by he wandered away.

That night the moon came up, peering curiously over the hilltop. He wanted to see what was going on in the world, and he always sees plenty of things to satisfy him. He stares and stares and stares perfectly unashamed. Mr. Moon is the one person without manners whom we all love.

One thing Mr. Moon saw was Biddy Bantam perched on the lower limb of the plum tree, another thing he saw was Fleet Fox slipping out of his hole, still another thing he saw was little weenty Cutie Cotton-tail saying goodby to his Mama and skiddading for the sass-patch garden beside the orchard where the plum tree was, and still another thing he saw was Chris Crow following Cutie like a shadow.

There's going to be a mixup. (To Be Continued)

LAND OWNER ON VISIT HERE IS WELL PLEASED

Carl Spitzer, of Deer Park, Wash., a land owner in Burleigh county, visited his farms north of the city today near Arnold and Ballwin, with F. E. Hedden, realty dealer. Mr. Spitzer found conditions much better than he anticipated, and believes in the future of his property. He remarked that if he had in the state of Washington a section of land that would compare to either one of his farms in Burleigh county the value would be $100 to $500 an acre.

There was a hard rain around Bismarck last night, with some hail, not enough hard to damage crops. Mr. Hedden made a trip through northern Burleigh county Sunday, driving about 170 miles. This territory has had considerable rain recently, the hills are green and the crops are two or three weeks behind those around Bismarck. A good yield is expected. Mr. Hedden, who formerly was with F. E. Young and company, has established his own real estate office in the Webb block.

Last Chance to Can Raspberries
Raspberries, Canned
Sort fruit, use only firmest. (Soft fruit can be used for jam.) Place in sterilized pint glass in layers, one layer of fruit and one layer of sugar. Allow about 4 tablespoons full of sugar to each pint jar. Place in steamer or boiler with covers loose, fill with cold water up to neck of jar. Allow water to come to good boil, this will shrink berries. Take and fill one jar from another. Seal with tight tops and place back in boiler. Allow water to boil, take off fire, let jars stand ten minutes in hot water before taking off, allow to cool, then place in cool room.
THE raspberry canning season will soon be over. Get as many as you can of the next good supply that comes onto the market—and put them up at home—in Ball Mason jars.
With the present low price of sugar you save 1/3 to 1/2 by canning your own berries. You are sure of their wholesomeness, purity and flavor, too. The family appreciates the quality of the kind that mother puts up at home.
